CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS. WASHINGTON, July 14.

WASHINGTON, July 14. SENATE.

On motion of Mr. Wilson, the bill to equalize bounties was made the special order for Tuesday at one o'clock.

Mr. Edmonds called up the House resolution for the appointment of ajoint committee of two Senators and three Representatives on the subject of retrenchment, to set during the recess of Congress and report by bill or otherwise.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, the resolution was amended so as to apply to military and naval as well as civil-officers of the government.

Mr. Anthony moved to amend by inserting a provision that the committee inquire into the expediency of so changing the method of appointments to the civil service as to put them beyond the power of being used for party purposes, and to provide for the retention of appointments to the civil service as to put them beyond the power of being used for party purposes, and to provide for the retention of appointments to the civil service as to put them beyond the power of being used for party purposes, and to provide for the retention of appointments to the civil service as to put them beyond the commerce, and then they would raise their rates for transportation as much as they choose. Adopted.

Mr. Edmond moved to amend by making the committee consist of three Senators and five Representatives, adopted.

Mr. Johnson inquired whether this was a joint resolution to be submitted to the President.

Mr. Edmond said it was not. It was a simple resolution of inquiry by the two Houses. The resolution as amended was adopted.

Mr. Johnson offered a bill for the 1elef of the sufferer by the Portland fire. It authorizes the President to cause to be purchased such provisions and clothing and such other articles as he shall think desirable, and to tender the same in the name of the Government of the United States to the State of Maine, for the relief of the citizens who have sair fered by the late fire in the city of Portland. It appropriates a sum not exceeding $50,000. The bill was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Pomeroy, from the Committee of Conference on the bill granting lands for the construction of the Northern Kansas Rallroad, made a report which was ordered to lie over and be printed.

Mr. Poland called up the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to lease to responsible parties such of the public lands as contain the mineral spring laying east of the 102 meridian of longitude. The lease is to be for a term of years not to exceed twenty the constitution of Mr. Grinnell on for fire personal reflection of Mr. Edmond moved to lay the bill and the report which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Harris called up the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to lease to responsible parties such of the public lands as contain the mineral spring laying east of the 102 meridian of longitude. The lease is to be for a term of years not to exceed twenty-five years, subject to readjustment every five years. The rent is not to be less than the income tax paid by those who own the mineral spring.

Mr. Conness opposed the bill as opposed to the principles of the Government based upon the idea that whatever is good belongs to the sovereign and not to the subject. The whole system was wrong.

bill until the first Monday in December. Before taking avote on the above motion the morning hour expired, and the bill to secure the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad was taken up.

Mr. Sherman spoke in opposition to the bill. This road had already received 4,700 acres of land on promise to build a road for that. It now asked the government to give it one hundred and twenty-two millions five hundred and seventy-one thousand six hundred dollars on the insufficient security on half the lands which they received as grant. This bill in a less objectionable form was debated in the House and grant. This bill in a less objectionable form was debated in the House and ruled down by a heavy majority. It was framed with a special view to evade the rule of the House requiring all bills appropriating money to be referred to a Committee and would be dragged through the House, The passage of such a bill as this would tend to impair public confidence in the credit of the government. Congress had been altogether too willing to embark in such an enterprise.

Without action on the bill the Senate Without action on the bill the Senate Sena went into exclusive sessi after adjourned, HOUSE, Mr. Washburne protested against this as one of the most important measures of the session, involving the interests of eight millions of people, being forced through under the previous question. He appealed to the judgement, the honesty and fairness of honor, to say whether it would confine the discussion of this grave matter to a sincle hour.

Mr. Alley said that he was quite willing to discuss the question thoroughly, but at this period of the session could not consent to have the time of the House taken up in this matter—would allow ten minutes to the gentleman from Missouri (Hogan), and ten minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Washburne).

Mr. Hogan expressed sarcastically his wonderful obligations to the gentle-man from Massachusetts for giving ten minutes to discuss a measure of man from Massachusetts for giving ten minutes to discuss a measure of such incalculable importance to his considerants and the people of the West. The ordinance of 1787, required the Mississippi river and its tributaries to be forever free and unobstructed to all the people of the United States, and now the gentleman from Massachusetts (Alley), came here at bidding, and by permission of the people of the country to destroy that navigation and take away from the people their right as citizens to the free navigation of the greatestriver in the world. While he (Hogan) and perhaps others, were condescendingly allowed ten minutes to present argument against these great monopolies, who have their agents on the floor. They have their freed attorneys here to vote on the measure. They have their feed attorneys here to vote on this measure, to rob the people of the West of their great God given right to navigate freely the great Mississippi river.

Mr. Boutwell rose to a question of ssippi river. Mr. Boutwell rose to a question of Mr. Boutwell rose to a question of order, excepting to the words last spoken and read at the close of the session. The speaker decided the words excepted to as out of order, as being reflections upon members of the House. Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, suggested that the real question was whether the statement was true. Mr. Hogan disclaimed any wish to say anything improper, and would not have made the reflection if debate had been allowed.

have made the reflection if debate had been allowed.

Mr. Houtwell interripted. Heclaimed that the House had a right to know he whether the gentleman adhered to what he said or retracted.

Mr. Sayer said he thought the gentleman from Missouri had done what the House required, and moved that he be allowed to proceed in order. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, wanted the gentleman from Missouri to be required to explain what he said about railroad corporations having their feed attorneys on the floor.

The Speaker ruled that the House had passed from the matter, and had given the gentleman from Missouri permission to proceed in order.

Mr. Ashley moved to reconsider that vote. The motion was laid on the table, and Mr. Hogan proceeded with his argument—called the attention of the House to the fact that in 1865 the registered tonnage steamers of the Mississippi river and lis tributaries was 292,—of 144 tons. There were nine hundred and ten steamers engaged in that navigation costing nearly $3,900,000, and that its commerce was greater than the whole foreign commerce of the United States.

Mr. Alley said that the argument of the gentleman from Missouri was more to the general merits of the bill than to the specific amendments. The only will freence between this bridge and other bridges proposed to be authorized that the that required for others, being only its difference between this bridge and other bridges proposed to be authorized was the width of the draw of the Clinton bridge was not of equal width to that required for others, being only that that bridge be declared a post road. The trouble about it was that it Interfered in rivalry between the St. Lonis and Chicago bridge, being of advan-

The Times' special says it is reported that Mr. Speed sent his resignation to the President yesterday, and yet the Attorney General was present at the Cabinet meeting to-day and remained to the close, leaving in company with Secretary's Stanton and Seward. We have no authentic information that Mr. Speed has resigned, though as stated in my dispatch last night there is excellent authority for saying that both Speed and Harlan will be out of the Cabinet in a few days.

The Herald's special says: It was rumored in Washington yesterday that the President has notified Secretary Stanton that his resignation would be accepted, and both he and Mr. Speed will send in letters of withdrawal to-day. Mr. Harlan will not resign until compelled to. It is not known who will be the successor of Mr. Dennison. Gen. Grant will take charge of the War office and Judge Browning will have the Interior Department.

The World's special says: The denial of the Times of the published accounts of Mr. Raymond's position in the Republican caucus on Wednesday, amounts to nothing so long as dozens of members who were present, maintain that he made a speech, in which he virtually abandoned his endorsement of the Philadelphia convention. He is welcome to so much of the modification of the accounts as will represent him sitting quietly in his seat and refusing to vote on the question, declaring that no republican Senator or member would endorse the Philadelpnia convention. vention. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, called the gentleman to order, excepting the last part of his remarks.

The words objected to having been written down and read from the cierk's desk, the Speaker oyerruled the point of order, not deeming the words offensive.

Mr. Washburne desired to be heard on the point, but the Speaker ruled that the matter was not debatable. After further devoting half an hour of his time to Mr. Washburne, who denounced the amendment in regard to the Clinton bridge as a most impudent and outrage received.

The Austrian, Hanover, Ramming and Martine regiments were wholly annihilated, and the 18th Jagar battalions were annihilated to the last man.

A dispatch from Prague of the 30th. reports an engagement on 29th near Tarnan and Kalitz, resulting favorably to the Austrians. It gives the names of

to the Austrians. It gives the names of several places evacuated by the Prussians. The latter were also defeated while living from Filcin, leaving their dead and wounded on the field. These engagements are probably the same as before reported.

A dispatch from Berlin of the 1st, gives an official dispatch from the headquarters of the Crown Prince, saying the result of the three days fighting in which the Fifth Prussian corps has been engaged cannot be too highly estimated. On the 27th it was opposed by the Sixth Austrian corps under Gen. Grinnnel upon the character of Mr. Grinnnel upon the character of Mr. Rousseau as a breach of privilege and that he be arraigned for expulsion and brought before the bar of the House and held subject to its order. Rousseau, Representative from Kentucky, by committing an assault on the person of Hon. J. B. Grinnell, representative from the State Iowa, for remarks spoken in debate, has justly forfeited his privileges as member of this House, and is hereby expelled. Resolved, That the personal reflections made by Mr. Grinnell on the character of Mr. Rousseau were in violation of the rules and regulations of debate, and the privileges of its member founded thereon, and merit the disapproval of the House.

Resolved, That Chas. Pennibacker, of Ky.; S. B. Grigsby, of Ky., and John S. McGrow, of Ohlo, by their presence and participation in a premeditated assault by Rousseau, of Kentucky, on Mr. Grinnell on account of words spoken in which the persons if not the lives of members of this House were imperilled, were guilty of a violation of the privileges, and they are heavy timated. On the 27th it was opposed by the Sixth Austrian corps under Gen. Ramming. A letter was found addressed by the latter to Gen. Benedict in posephstadt which affords complete proof that the forces under his command were thoroughly exhausted. He therein requested Gen. Benedict to send him two fresh brigades in order that his troops might bivouac under their protection and acknowleged that they would not be able to fight on the following day. The fifth Prussian corps was therefore opposed on the 28th and 29th by the corps of the Arch Duke Leopold and Gen. Testies. The streets everywhere showed traces of an obstinate engagement. The enemy fied in disorder under cover of night. The conduct of the Prussian troops was excellent. The corps of Guards Rejia repulsed the cavalry charges without forming squares. The headquarters of Prince Frederick Charles have been removed beyond Gilschin. The position of the first and second army corps was complete. The number of Austrian prisoners already exceeds 5,000. An Italian regiment forming part of a contingent of Austria to strengthen eight federal corps, had arrived at Frankfort.

A Gilschin telegram of the 3d states that the Vienna Telegraph of the 28th ult. announcing the loss of 18 guns by the Prussians, is officially denied.

The Prussians have not lost a single to-night of the belief that Congress will not adjourn at present.
